

REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL FROM THE WORLD INITIATIVE FOR SOY IN HUMAN HEALTH (WISHH)
A Program of the American Soybean Association

I. DATE

August 26, 2021

II. PROJECT OBJECTIVE

This request for proposal (RFP) will identify a Senior Advisor – Education & Outreach communication expert consultant as part of a comprehensive outreach, education and communication approach utilized by the American Soybean Association’s (ASA) World Initiative for Soy in Human Health (WISHH) Program. The desired Senior Advisor would have a decade or more of experience working directly in the intersection of U.S. agricultural trade and international development. Experience needed in public relations, legislative and U.S. agricultural partnerships, and active in the international development community with an extensive network of contacts and memberships in relative groups to bring new information and initiatives to the WISHH program. The Senior Advisor’s experience should be able to assist in maintaining and strengthening current ASA/WISHH relationships with current partners, funders and stakeholders as well as identify new opportunities for additional partnerships. The Senior Advisor would have international agricultural development experience combined with international and U.S. communications expertise to increase awareness and support of U.S. high-protein soy’s value in long-term markets for U.S. soy. The work would require coordination with ASA & WISHH staff and a variety of soy organizations, and governing body members. Communications would involve using and abiding by the branding guides for WISHH and WISHH projects that include graphics and other visuals. Story telling writing as well as economic development experience required for funder and partner communications and outreach through social media platforms such as Facebook, and LinkedIn in addition to having the ability to capture analytics for all social media outreach.

The deliverables from this agreement will be used to inform and proactively engage with key audiences about: 1) soy’s role in global health and global food security; and 2) long-term market development in developing and emerging economies. The purpose is to provide key leaders in the global food security conversation, both domestically and internationally, information about the value of U.S. soy (nutrition, sustainability, quality, etc.), and to highlight ASA/WISHH’s work in developing and emerging markets while showcasing U.S. soy’s commitment to global food security. In addition, outreach and engagement targeting state soybean organizations will help equip state staff and grower leaders with the knowledge and tools to specifically amplify these messages and priorities on the state level. This focused and issue-oriented education of key audiences and state soybean organizations will help increase profit opportunities for soy growers and help lift the U.S. soybean industry to a higher level of global competitiveness.

III. ORGANIZATON BACKGROUND

The American Soybean Association (ASA) was founded in 1920 by soybean farmers and extension workers to promote soy for high protein applications in developmental settings. Overseas activities initiated in the mid-1950s, and to date ASA has worked in over 80 countries. The World Initiative for Soy in Human Health (WISHH) Program was founded in 2000 to expand the work of the American Soybean Association (ASA) in developing emerging markets to improve health, nutrition, and food security, building the groundwork for future markets of soy. WISHH provides services in food technology, business development, nutrition services, and program and proposal development. WISHH expertise extends its network into additional areas, such as aquaculture and animal feed.

ASA/WISHH connects trade and development to strengthen agricultural value chains in emerging markets, creating trade and long-term demand for U.S. soy. Trade can improve lives worldwide for both farmers and consumers. U.S. soy trade in emerging markets is pivotal to improve accessibility, affordability, and acceptability of high-quality plant and animal-sourced proteins in developing economies. Rising incomes in emerging economies generate further opportunity for trade. ASA/WISHH builds opportunity for long-term trade by improving agricultural value chains, human and animal nutrition, and farmer net incomes. ASA/WISHH initiatives broadly fit in two arenas: (1) trade- building long-term, early-stage market development, and (2) trade-building international agriculture and economic development. The St. Louis-based Program operates in sub-Saharan Africa, Asia, and Central America.

ASA/WISHH offers over six years of proven feed sector capacity and decades of accumulated knowledge from ASA programs. Principal approaches include market and economic assessments, technical assistance and capacity building, food and feed trials and demonstrations, farmer field days, youth mentorship programs, food and feed value chain development, and market linkages.

ASA/WISHH achieves its mission by working in close partnership with: (1) the public sector (e.g., USDA, USAID, U.S. land grant universities, and host country governments), (2) the private sector (e.g., trade associations: Qualified State Soybean Boards and U.S. Soybean Export Council), and (3) private voluntary organizations. The Program draws upon the resources and experience of these partners and the services of a cadre of ASA/WISHH consultants with technical expertise in agricultural, international, and commercial development spheres. ASA/WISHH relies on decades of experience in food commercial development and agricultural development programming. The Program takes pride in its growing portfolio of success with U.S. government-funded projects, including USDA (Food for Progress, McGovern-Dole, Global Broad-Based Initiative, Foreign Market Development, Market Access Program, Emerging Markets Program, and Quality Samples Program) and USAID funding in both prime and sub-recipient capacities. ASA/WISHH has also attracted both private sector and other complementary funding sources from various donors to build on and leverage core funding from Qualified State Soybean Boards.

The WISHH Program receives funding from the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) through the Emerging Markets Program (EMP), Market Access Program (MAP), Foreign Market Development Program (FMD), Agriculture Trade Promotion Program (ATP) and the Global Broad-Based Initiative (GBI). WISHH's objective is to increase the international consumption of soy protein in the human, livestock, and aquaculture sectors in new markets and thereby create new opportunities for soybeans and provide higher economic returns to U.S. soybean producers.

IV. SCOPE OF WORK

WISHH seeks to highlight U.S. soy's role in global food security. Engagement in global food security conversations is a win-win for U.S. soybean farmers and the developing and emerging economies in which WISHH works. Work to increase local protein availability (via new soy-based food products, eggs, chicken, fish, etc.) improves access to food and has beneficial effects on soybean prices.

The role of the consultant will be to identify and open doors to relationships that benefit WISHH, monitor opportunity and obstacles related to WISHH's work, participate in WISHH meetings to develop and deliver content for WISHH's diverse stakeholders, represent WISHH at predesignated meetings in the D.C. area, and design and create communications materials to distill WISHH messaging around key areas such as grower leader education, engagement, and global food security in a way that assists WISHH in meeting its goals and objectives under its new strategic plan.

This RFP includes the following deliverables:

Responsibilities

- Provide strategic counsel to WISHH and the ASA to contribute to WISHH achieving its new strategic plan and increasing support of U.S. high-protein products in developing country value chains and diets, including communicating scientific and competitive benefits of soy;
- Liaise with USDA and other funders and partners to WISHH projects
- Participate in the communication of program results, news items and other matters of interest to meet the needs of targeted funders, especially Qualified State Soybean Boards;
- Document successes of services provided, including beneficiary feedback;

- Coordinate regularly with ASA's communications team in both D.C. and St. Louis on WISHH communication needs and opportunities. Provide regular content for WISHH Communications i.e. Ebean, quarterly magazine, press releases, etc.
- Have ongoing discussions with staff at Qualified State Soybean Boards to identify opportunities and fulfill requests for outreach materials that are of particular interest to respective states;
- Work with Qualified State Soybean Boards with a monthly/quarterly magazine that provide $100,000 or more in support to include an article related to WISHH activities/success stories.
- Provide input regarding ongoing opportunities to continue branding of the WISHH program;
- Work with WISHH to implement the current five-year strategic plan that supports and expands the mission and vision of the organization.
- Work with WISHH team and partners to increase use of high-quality digital photos and videos in outreach materials;
- Promote opportunities for WISHH stakeholders to witness WISHH activities firsthand, and then report their findings to the media and other WISHH audiences;
- Promote U.S. sustainable soybean production through responsible stewardship while acknowledging global market needs;
- Represent WISHH at appropriate activities and events;
- Provide proactive recommendations on how WISHH and the U.S. Soybean Export Council can coordinate messaging and communications to clarify the difference between the organizations and capitalize on potential synergies;
- Assist WISHH in developing messages supporting agricultural development;
- Provide counsel to WISHH regarding opportunities to maintain and expand its website, especially with fresh content;
- Assist WISHH in outreach strategy and public relations activities for overall program especially QSSBs;
- Assist WISHH in outreach strategy on Feed the Future, ASA/WISHH's ag development agenda and other initiatives;

- Assist WISHH in identifying opportunities to conduct a high-level protein nutrition optimization conference.

Deliverables

- Produce and distribute at least 4 WISHH results or other announcements to contacts in WISHH's Constant Contact database as well as assist WISHH in expanding, updating and segmenting distributions to lists maintained through WISHH's Constant Contact subscription;
- Develop 8 pieces of content for and maintain WISHH's new LinkedIn account.
- Provide articles and/or press releases and/or videos and/or photos and/or social media content to QSSBs following grower leader significant events, such as elections or trips or international travel;
- Monitor and measure WISHH social media, including LinkedIn
- Provide content for weekly Market Monday posts – typically pulling from that week's ebean article(s);
- Produce 5 short videos throughout the year;
- Revise the WISHH Capability Statement;
- Assist with the design and content development of the WISHH 1-pager regional marketing tools;
- Coordinate with WISHH marketing, branding and promotion asubcommittee, partners and donors to identify and execute public relations programs that heighten awareness of WISHH results;
- Participate in a weekly phone call or meeting with the WISHH staff regarding projects and partnerships;
- Monitor announcements and news related to WISHH activities and regularly distribute to WISHH staff;
- Provide recommendations for WISHH website content;
- Submit quarterly reports of up to one page in length, cataloguing actions and accomplishments including communications prepared for QSSB distribution;
- Submit a final report of not more than one page per tactical initiative outlined in the scope of work cited above, plus an executive summary; deadline will be 45 days from the end of the fiscal year;

- Track non-checkoff sponsored media for WISHH Stories;
- Provide examples/options for a new WISHH logo when and if that process begins during this fiscal year;
- Participate in conference planning calls and task force planning calls;
- Update the WISHH Communications plan for FY21-22
