

REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL FROM THE WORLD INITIATIVE FOR SOY IN HUMAN HEALTH (WISHH)

DATE

January 23, 2025

I. PROJECT OBJECTIVE

The In-Country Representative (ICR) will play a crucial role in bolstering WISHH market development efforts in Cambodia through the implementation of designated activities that supplement local value chains, engage local stakeholders, and increase prospects for U.S. soy exports. The ICR will be serving as the primary relationship builder in Cambodia and the ‘face of U.S. soy’ in the marketplace. WISHH’s target audiences are leading food and beverage manufacturers, feed millers, livestock, poultry and aquaculture producers, and associated industry and government stakeholders; and industry influencers in Cambodia. This is a part-time role of approximately 70 days for the calendar year 2025.

II. ORGANIZATION BACKGROUND

The American Soybean Association (ASA) was founded in 1920 by soybean farmers and extension workers to promote soy for high protein applications in developmental settings. Overseas activities initiated in the mid-1950s, and to date ASA has worked in over 80 countries. The World Initiative for Soy in Human Health (WISHH) was founded in 2000 to expand the work of the American Soybean Association (ASA) in developing and emerging markets to improve health, nutrition and food security, building the groundwork for future markets of soy. WISHH provides services in food technology, business development, nutrition services, and program and proposal development. WISHH expertise extends its network into additional areas, such as aquaculture and animal feed.

WISHH connects trade and development to strengthen agricultural value chains in emerging markets, creating trade and long-term demand for U.S. soy. Trade can improve lives worldwide for both farmers and consumers. U.S. soy trade in emerging markets is pivotal to improve accessibility, affordability, and acceptability of high-quality plant and animal-sourced proteins in developing economies. Rising incomes in emerging economies generate further opportunity for trade. WISHH builds opportunity for long-term trade by improving agricultural value chains, human and animal nutrition, and farmer net incomes. WISHH initiatives broadly fit in two arenas: (1) trade-building long-term, early-stage market development, and (2) trade-building international agriculture and economic development. The St. Louis-based Program operates in sub-Saharan Africa, Asia and Central America.

WISHH has food and feed sector value chain building expertise accumulated from decades of international program implementation. Principal approaches include market and economic assessments, technical assistance and capacity building, human food and animal feed industry consulting, implementing feeding trials and demonstrations, organize farmer field days, and market linkages.

WISHH achieves its mission by working in close partnership with: (1) the public sector (e.g., USDA, U.S. land grant universities, and host country governments), (2) the private sector (e.g., industry, trade associations: Qualified State Soybean Boards and U.S. Soybean Export Council), and (3) private voluntary organizations. The Program draws upon the resources and experience of these partners and the services of a cadre of WISHH consultants with technical expertise in agricultural, international, and commercial development. The Program takes pride in its growing portfolio of successes with U.S. government-funded projects, including USDA Food for Progress, McGovern-Dole, Foreign Market Development, Market Access Program, Emerging Markets Program, Regional Agricultural Promotion Program and Quality Samples Program funding in both prime and sub-recipient capacities. WISHH has also attracted both private sector and other complementary funding sources from various donors to build on and leverage core funding from Qualified State Soybean Boards.

WISHH's objective is to increase the international consumption of soy protein in the human, livestock, and aquaculture sectors in new markets and thereby create new opportunities for soy and higher economic returns to U.S. soybean producers.

III. SCOPE OF WORK

Among other responsibilities, the regional representative will:

- Build effective professional relationships with key partners to identify and address their unique challenges and opportunities for adopting U.S. soy proteins
- Ensure that each key partner receives the guidance and technical services necessary to successfully integrate soy proteins into their products and leverage the benefits of U.S. soy.
- Connect prospective buyers to U.S. soy suppliers and distributors.
- Promptly notify U.S. soy suppliers/distributors of qualified sales leads and provide post-sales support to the buyers.
- In collaboration with WISHH headquarters, coordinate every aspect of trade team missions, from team participant recruitment to post mission follow-ups.
- Coordinate technical assistance sessions between key partners and technical experts.
- Update the WISHH Customer Relationship Management (CRM) database to ensure efficient account management.
- Collect feedback and evaluate the activity's impact, summarizing the results achieved in quarterly reports.
- Grow the reputation of WISHH among influencers in the region.
- Seek-out partners that expand the WISHH network and reputation in the region.

You will be responsible for working within the approved budget and being familiar with the WISHH mission statement; WISHH's role in the U.S. soy export family; and able to effectively represent WISHH to partners in Cambodia. You will participate in periodic phone/virtual meetings with the WISHH Asia headquarters team.

Additional Qualifications

Proposal submitter must have excellent business acumen as well as communications and organizational skills; a deep and practical knowledge of the region’s food industry; a solid track record of commodity promotion experience and prospective customer/key account relationship building; established relationships with U.S. Department of Agriculture/Foreign Agricultural Service personnel; significant marketing experience in the region; an established and robust network within the region; and the following technology and competencies - utilizing online platforms, various communications apps such as WhatsApp, and business software such as MS Word, Excel, and PowerPoint. Previous experience with CRM is preferred as utilizing the WISHH CRM will be a requirement of the WISHH regional representative.
